

The closest thing we will ever come to an orderly universe is a good library.

The closest thing we will ever come to an orderly universe is a good library.

The closest thing we will ever come to an orderly universe is a good library.

The closest thing we will ever come to an orderly universe is a good library.